

Kelly OKC Profile

Self Summary

So, I never thought I'd do anything like this, but I lost a bet so here goes nothing.

I'm Kelly and I'm pretty awesome. I like to have fun and cause trouble, but I appreciate a good night at home relaxing and preparing for new adventures. I love laughing and I have been to become broken from nights out with friends.

My closest friends would describe me as crazy and fearless and I'm always up for an adventure to see or try something new. I love traveling and have been to six countries so far and have a list a mile long to see yet. Most recently I was living in Seoul, South Korea for a year teaching English. It was one of the greatest experiences I've ever had, and I met a lot of great friends and was opened up to a whole new culture. I'd be lying if I said I didn't miss it.

What I'm doing with my life

I've just arrived home from my year in Korea and I'm still planning my next adventure. In the interim I'm taking some online courses and spending time with my family while we're in the same place.

Really good at

Everything. Well, almost. I give great advice and always have an ear to listen when friends need me. I can burn up the dance floor with my amazing Zoolander dance skills and can belt out a tune with the best of them. Wherever I go I always make sure I have fun and generally make everyone around me laugh.

First Thing people notice about me

People tend to hear me before they see me. I can be a bit loud, especially if I think something's funny. After they look over, it's the curls that grab attention.

Favorites

Books are one of my favorite pastimes. I can spend hours lost in a new world and enthralled in a good story.

Food is my life! I love Korean food (that worked out well living there) along with Italian, Mexican, and of course, Southern! There's no way I can choose just one kind. Life is too short to limit choices.

I like all kinds of music. Everything from Coldplay to smooth jazz to hip hop to all kinds of international music. There's really nothing that I don't like.

Six Things I can't live without

Books

Guitar

Family
Friends
Delicious food!

Spend time thinking about

At the moment, where my next adventure is going to take me! I have found I love living abroad and have a big travel bug. It's always going to be part of my life. Beyond that I'm always picking up new information and facts and always have my family in my heart.

Friday night

I have varied interests and always have something to keep me busy when I don't feel like getting into trouble. I love to read, write, dance (I've been known to shake my but to anything with a good beat), and I'm learning to play the guitar I picked up in Korea. There's never a dull moment with me and if there is I can fix it pretty fast! I love movies and hanging out with my friends, so there have been plenty of legendary nights with them.

Message me if

If you found Waldo. I've been looking for him.

You have a sense of humor and adventure. I like to walk on the wild side and am looking for someone who wants to have adventures and is up for some fun.

I have a passion for reading and writing and I taught English, please don't give me flashbacks with your messages. It will make me grab a red pen and then my computer screen will be all marked up and that won't be fun.
