

Name: Scarlett Morfiel
Race: Wood Elf
Class: Sorceress
Alignment: Neutral Good

Physical description: Female, long red hair

Backstory

Her name is Scarlett Morfiel. She is a 260 year old elven sorceress. She left home when she was 232, barely preceding the murder of her mother. She has no place to call home now. She had to leave for her own safety, but longs to return, though she has no idea how she'd fix the mess her family fell into. And her brother would likely kill her on site. She moves from place to place, surviving as she can, plagued by the destruction she fled, hiding from those who may be seeking her out to bring her back to her execution. She keeps to herself and trusts few as she never knows who could be working with her family. Her constant companion is her Raven familiar, Xavea, who came to her on her 100th birthday and has been by her side ever since.

True Backstory

Her real name is Kamahnae (dragon mage whisper) Rilynneoplith (the house of the forest). She is an elven princess of the Cormanthor Forest, residing near the Duathamper River in the Elven Court. Daughter of Amanes (beautiful heart) Rilynneoplith, the queen, and Baelik (mighty guardian) Rilynneoplith, the king, she was born into a life of peace and nobility. She and her twin brother, Ferayth (champion of the people), are the only children of the king and queen.

Kamahnae inherited her magic from her mother. The female elves of her line have all been gifted sorceress known for their kindness and diplomatic abilities. Once her magic started emerging, she would often practice on her brother, much to his dismay. They soon teamed up with elaborate tricks on the others in the court and made a name for themselves as the royal ghosts.

Ferayth sometimes envied Kamahnae's abilities, but he was more often proud of his sister's power. He himself honed his talents as a fierce warrior

She led a life of privilege and nobility. She has a kind heart, but was clueless about the real struggles of common folk until she was forced to become one. She took the name of Scarlett Morfiel as it is less obvious than Jane Smith and nothing that stands out. She doesn't want to draw attention to herself.

One day a dark human wizard by the name of _____ came to the kingdom. He sought a meeting with her father and brother to implore them to align with the Orcs of Galena Mountains. He had aligned himself with them when they invaded his homeland and through dark magics has been granted an unnaturally long life for a human. When they refused, the wizard cast a dark spell of influence over them that poisoned their hearts and minds. Within days, they had changed. No longer the noble, just elves they were before, they became vengeful and jealous.
